Key words: Quality assurance system
Question: Must existing certificates relating to QA-Systems (ISO 9001) be accepted by a notified body?
Solution: No; but the notified body is able to take into account existing certificates relating to QA-systems (ISO 9001) if it is convinced of the qualification of the certification body (accreditation, mutual recognition and others). In all cases the notified body must add product and regulation-related aspects.
